ECHA: UPDATED THE DOSSIER OF REACH REGISTRATION FOR ZINC

In the updated dossier of the REACH registration dossier for zinc, under the MISA program, a distinction should be made between the classification of the powder form and the massive form. In the 9th ATP: COMMISSION REGULATION (EU) 2016/1179 of 19 July 2016 which amends, for the purposes of its adaptation to technical and scientific progress, Regulation (EC) no. 1272/2008 of the European Parliament and of the Council on classification, labeling and packaging of substances and mixtures and applicable from 1 March 2018, lead dust has a revised lower classification limit for its Reprotoxic Cat 1A classification: 0.03%. This limit is ten times lower than the previous one. In the REACH registration dossier, the typical lead content of Zn dust has a range from 0.01% to 0.1%.

To solve the problem of the quantity of lead contained in the mixture, normalized and repeated bioelution tests were performed under acid conditions on zinc powders with variable lead composition and the results confirmed this characteristic. Test results show that zinc dust can contain up to 0.2% lead before releasing enough lead to activate its specific reprotoxic classification.

CANADA: SCREENING ASSESSMENT OF TALC

Under Section 74 of the Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999 (CEPA), the Minister of the Environment and the Minister of Health conducted a talc assessment screening. The Chemical Abstracts Service (CAS RN1) registry number for talc is 14807-96-6. This substance is among those substances identified as priorities for evaluation as it meets the classification criteria under subsection 73 (1) of the CEPA.

Talc is a naturally occurring mineral and is used in various fields such as adhesives, sealants or water treatment. In addition, Talc is a permitted food additive and is an ingredient in personal care products and cosmetics.

Considering all the information presented in the screening, it was concluded that talc meets the criteria of paragraph 64 (c) of the CEPA as it enters or may enter the environment in quantities or concentrations or conditions which constitute or may constitute a hazard to human life or health in Canada. Moreover, talc meets one of the criteria set out in section 64 of the CEPA. It has also been established that talc meets persistence criteria but not bioaccumulation criteria as set out in the CEPA Persistence and Bioaccumulation Regulations.

KKIDIK (TURKISH REACH): LATE PREREGISTRATION ACCEPTED BY TURKISH AUTHORITY ONLY EARLY 2021

ACT NOW IF YOU LOST THE LAST DEADLINE

In 2017, Turkey published and consolidated the text of the KKIDIK regulation regarding chemicals that can be placed on local national market. The scheme adopted follows the European REACH regulation in many prescriptions, so much so that it is often referred to as Turkey-REACH.

One of the significant differences is that there is only one registration deadline for all tonnage bands, set for 31/12/2023.

At this stage, the possibility is open to pre-register by 31/12/2020 but the Turkish government seems to accept late preregistration until 31.12.2023.

Moreover, in the last quarter of 2021 The MoEU will add a sub-tool into the KKS in order to generate Chemical Safety Report.

As for REACH EU, applicants must be Turkish legal entities. Non-Turkish companies that want to keep the market will have to appoint a local OR (only Representative). RNI srl can offer this service.

SEA UPDATES:

The SEA CLP like Regulation has been updated, adding 110 new substances to the Harmonized List of classification and labeling "and new hazard classifications. Furthermore, only polymers must be notified and not their ingredients.
